Beyond the Discrete Trial: Teaching Advanced Learner Repertoires with Steve Ward, MA, BCBA

Friday, August 11, 2017
8:30am-4:30pm

There will be a break from 12-1pm for lunch.*

Online Webinar with CEU's Available!

In Person Location:
The Kensington Hotel
3500 S State St., Ann Arbor, MI 48108

Can't make it in person?
A Webinar is Available!

7 BCBA CEU's are available for in-person and webinar participants.

This workshop is designed for teachers, behavior analysts, and other professionals working with students who are ready to take that next step.

We will cover when, why, and how to teach:

- true independence
- mands for information
- mands for "help"
- problem solving
- token systems/level systems
- cooperative learning
- skill acquisition in a group format
- self- monitoring

Participants will learn about limitations in the value of social stories, and especially of "social autopsies", and will learn a template for overcoming these limitations.

Steve Ward, MA, BCBA has been working in the field of Behavior Analysis since 1995, and is currently co-owner of Whole Child Consulting, LLC. Steve has been consulting to individuals, teams, schools and companies around the world. As the consultant and Lead Behavior Analyst for a center school, Steve conducted functional assessments, wrote behavior plans, and trained staff to address a wide range of behaviors. He has also designed programming for a wide variety of repertoires, including verbal behavior, daily living skills, and academics, and a host of others.
