

How to be a Prepared Advocate for Your Child

Tuesday, October 3, 2017
6:30-8:30pm

Oak Lawn Public Library
9427 S. Raymond Ave.,
Oak Lawn, IL 60453

Or attend online via webinar!

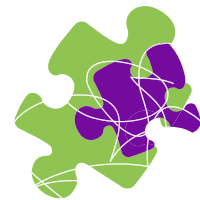

Equip For Equality and Autism Home Support Services are offering a free training that is focused on how parents and others could best prepare and advocate for their children during the IEP and Evaluation process.

Topics include:

- Recognize your child's legal right to a free and appropriate education
- Actively participate in making education decisions for your child
- Communicate effectively with your child's school

How can Equip for Equality help you?

- IEP Advice and fact sheets
- Self-advocacy and legal representation
- Trainings and referrals
- Free legal help

This event is free!

Can't attend in person?
Attend online via webinar!

Register Online at autismhomesupport.com/events

Registration closes on Monday, October 2
Please register in advance.

Amanda is a staff attorney with the Special Education Clinic at Equip for Equality, where she represents students and families in special education and related school discipline matters. Previously, Amanda was an Equal Justice Works fellow and staff attorney at a non-profit organization based in Boston, Massachusetts, Massachusetts Advocates for Children, where she provided special education representation to families of children with mental health disabilities, as well as ongoing training and technical assistance in special education law to mental health providers working with low-income children and families through the Children's Behavioral Health Initiative. Amanda is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and Harvard Law School.

Illinois | Michigan | Colorado

Empowering Progress Toward Hopes and Dreams!